Weiterbildungsangebot für Hauptamtliche in der EmK erweitert

Internationales Doctor-of-Ministry-Programm zur Ausschreibung offen

In Zusammenarbeit zwischen der Theologischen Hochschule Reutlingen, dem Wesley Theological Seminary, Washington/D.C. und dem General Board of Higher Education and Ministry (GBHEM) der United Methodist Church kann ein weiterer internationaler Doctor-of-Ministry-Kurs für fünf europäische Pastoren und Pastorinnen der EmK angeboten werden:

For European Applications to the »Church Leadership Excellence« Track
At Wesley Theological Seminary, Washington/DC

Five places are reserved for select European students in Wesley Theological Seminarys Church Leadership Excellence Track which begins May 2009. This track draws persons from across the United States and other countries. Only twenty persons are chosen from among dozens of applications to participate in this group. Five of those twenty openings have been reserved for United Methodist pastors serving in Europe.

- A special grant is available to pay the total tuition for the program. Students will be responsible for their transportation, housing, meals, and books.
- Faculty and administration of the program will give careful attention to similarities and differences between the American context for church leadership and the European context for church leadership.
- Eight core classes will be taken at Wesley Theological Seminary in Washington, D.C.
- Two elective classes will be taken in Europe under the co-leadership of Dr. Holger Eschmann, Dr. Michael Nausner and Rev. Jørgen Thaarup, D. Min. The electives in Europe will be available to all members of the Church Leadership Excellence track.
- To apply for the »Church Leadership Excellence« track of the Doctor of Ministry program, please contact: Reutlingen School of Theology, Friedrich-Ebert-Straße 31, D-72762 Reutlingen (holger.eschmann(at)th-reutlingen.de or michael.nausner(at)th-reutlingen.de)
